

RYAN PROBABLY IS TO LEAD IN PROGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN

State Committee to Meet Today for Permanent Organization

OTHER COMMITTEES

Taft People May Consider Further Attack on Law

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—The selection of a chairman for the Progressive Republican state central committee, which will meet here tomorrow and complete organization, was the chief topic of discussion tonight among committee members. It was said that Daniel A. Ryan, of San Francisco had been selected to accept the chairmanship, if it should be offered him, and it is believed he will be the choice of the committee.

Russ Avery, an attorney of Los Angeles, also was mentioned. It was suggested that Avery be made chairman in retaliation for Avery's expulsion from the Republican national committee. Meyer Linder of Los Angeles was elected national committee man from California, by the California delegation at Chicago, but resigned after the convention adopted a resolution empowering the national committee to expel any member not pledged to Taft and Sherman. Avery was elected in his stead and later was expelled when he refused to arrange meetings in Los Angeles for former Congressman Adam Bede and John Maynard Harbison. Taft speakers who followed Roosevelt.

Avery, it was said tonight, had expressed his willingness to accept the chairmanship, but it is believed Ryan will be named because of his greater political experience. A meeting of the executive committee of the Progressive Republican state central committee was held here tonight. Plans for the campaign were discussed, including the proposed speaking tour of Francis J. Heney, who will be one of the leading speakers for the Progressives. There was no mention in the meeting of the possibility of an attack on the state primary law by the Taft men, and members of the committee declined to comment upon the action yesterday of the Supreme Court.

The Taft Republican state central committee will meet here tomorrow. While it is not believed that any action against the primary law will be begun, the question will be up for the first formal consideration tomorrow and suggestions for nullifying the constitutionality of the law, probably after election, will be discussed. The Taft committee of attorneys was in consultation today and will submit a definite report to the committee.

In either the Roosevelt nor Taft camps there was any apparent movement to concentrate an attack on the legislative nominees of the opposing party. The action of the Taft Republicans in Sacramento in announcing their intention of opposing the candidate of the Roosevelt committee, was discussed by Roosevelt leaders here for tomorrow's meeting, but there was no indication that the Progressives would retaliate by centering a fight on the Taft legislative nominees who walked out with the Sacramento leaders.

DEMOCRATIC MEET.—The Democratic state executive committee met here today and discussed finances and other details of the campaign. The committee decided to request the thirteen elected nominees to pledge $250 apiece to the campaign. The eleven nominees for congress will be asked to pledge $100 each. A resolution was adopted approving the plan for the national movement in agriculture and progress. Montecello, the old home of Thomas Jefferson, as a permanent memorial. Another resolution was adopted protesting against the diversion of the University of California for better purposes. The closing campaign to be launched within two weeks, was discussed. Word was received that John Sharp Williams will visit California and speak in behalf of Wilson and Marshall. Professor Howard A. Phillips, of Princeton, N. J., also will speak here for the Democratic candidates.

JOHNSON ON DECISION.—RUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Governor Johnson, when informed of the Taft election, declared that he would not support the Roosevelt people, complied with the law in filing their petition.

"I understand there will be no Taft ticket in California," he said. "This matters little, because the few who have already announced their intention of supporting the Democratic nominee."

MARRIAGE SPEECH.—HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 4.—Governor Marshall, Democratic vice presidential candidate, delivered the last of the planned speeches of his tour here tonight. He said in part: "There is a section of population known as 'progressives' who are clamoring for the moment bring to the surface his hidden nature. May be judged correctly with reference to his weakness in society is to be judged by his nature and not his abnormal thought and conduct. None of us doubt the fact that the individuals made during intense religious excitement."

"We do not doubt the statements and conduct of men when in office because their statements and conduct are governed by the usual and normal."

SERVIAN ARMY IS READY FOR WAR; TURKS AROUSED

Great Powers Must Hurry if They Would Stop Struggle in the Balkans

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Times correspondent at Sofia, referring to mediation by the powers, says: "It should be understood that the point has been reached where negotiations and councils not only are totally useless, but even tend to precipitate war which all are anxious to avoid. Unless the powers guarantee the execution of article XXIII of the treaty of Berlin, nothing can prevent war. Everything depends upon the action of the powers during the next ten days, by which time the forces of the allied states will have concentrated on their frontiers."

The Times Belgrade correspondent says mobilization of the Serbian army is virtually complete.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 4.—Sentiment in favor of war is increasing in Turkey. Several thousand persons held a mass meeting today in the mosque of Sultan Ahmed I at Stamboul at which all references to the Balkan states were greeted with cries of "Greece is Bulgaria, Serbia, Greece and Montenegro."

Several leaders of the liberal party addressed the meeting, declaring that Turkey was ready to face all her foes.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—Pietro Bertolini and Rehad pasha, the Italian and Turkish peace delegates will leave Ouchy, Switzerland tonight for Rome and Constantinople respectively in order to secure the ratification of the government to the peace agreement reached by them, according to a special dispatch received here from Ouchy.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 4.—Prince George of Greece started today for Athens to be ready to join the Greek army should hostilities break out.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 4.—All the forces in Constantinople have been requisitioned by the government for the army.

The government has ordered the withdrawal of the Turkish troops from the island of Samos and the Prince-Governor also will leave the island tomorrow.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The wires from the near eastern capitals were ominously reticent tonight or altogether silent. A brief dispatch announcing that railway traffic had been stopped between Constantinople and Mustapha Pasha and Dodecanese and confirmation of the news that Bulgarians had crossed the Turkish frontier, virtually all the information of a military nature received today in London and shows that the telegraphic censorship is active. One hopeful sign is the fact that diplomatic relations remain unbroken and apparently no ultimatum has been delivered or a declaration of war made. Therefore, diplomacy still has time to act in the interests of peace. At present European negotiations looking to peace are centered in Paris, but it seems undecided whether action in this direction shall be taken by a concert of the European powers as a whole or by Austria and Russia as the representatives of Europe. It is believed difficulty is being found in reconciling the Austrian and Russian views of the situation. There is a strong feeling in Constantinople that Turkey should issue an ultimatum of her own instead of waiting for Serbia, Bulgaria, Montenegro and Greece to send one to her, says a dispatch to the Daily Chronicle from the Turkish capital.

The same correspondent says that the rumors in Constantinople that the Greeks have invaded Turkish territory that Bulgarian bands are invading Macedonia and committing dynamic outrages and that Serbian bands in Novepazar are committing atrocities.

"It is believed here," continues the correspondent, "that Bulgaria will mark the anniversary of her independence Saturday by declaring war."

SAN FRANCISCO GREEKS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—Plans have been begun here by members of the local Greek colony for sending to Greece the volunteers who are willing to return to their native country to take up arms in the Balkan war. At a meeting today, Richard de Fontana, the Greek consul in San Francisco, was appointed chairman of a committee which will raise funds and complete arrangements for transporting the volunteers. This committee will assume full charge of the California situation and will attend to the enrollment of the volunteers and insure their delivery to the agent of the Greek government in New York. The committee has the sanction of the Greek government.

A meeting of Greeks will be held here early next week.

STRANGE DEATH OF PROFESSOR'S WIFE

Killed in Fall From Window Either Accidental or Suicidal

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Mrs. A. E. Taylor, wife of Dr. A. E. Taylor, formerly professor of physiology at the University of California, was killed today by a fall from a window on the third floor of a downtown hotel. Dr. Taylor, who was in the room at the time, said her death was accidental.

According to Dr. Taylor, his wife had asked for a glass of water and remarking that the room was warm, stepped upon a small radiator to open the window. When he turned with the glass filled with water, Mrs. Taylor was not in sight, and turning to the open window, the physician saw his wife unconscious and dying on the walk.

The police are investigating a report that Mrs. Taylor leaped from the window. They were informed that the window opening is forty inches wide from the inner part of the sill to the outer edge of the ledge, and that its height above the floor would make it difficult for anyone to fall against the sill and then fall to the street.

Reports were current among the hotel employees that Mrs. Taylor was expecting to undergo a surgical operation and was dreading the ordeal.

Dr. Taylor is the Benjamin Rush professor of physiological chemistry at the University of Pennsylvania. He left California three years ago.

Mrs. Taylor was said to have been in poor health and remained with her children, two boys and a girl in California. Dr. Taylor left for California at the end of the spring term at the university and was taking his family to Philadelphia when the accident occurred.

MORE CLAIMANTS TO THE BAKER ESTATE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—The thirty-sixth of the late Mrs. Arendia Baker, who enjoyed the distinction of being Southern California's richest woman, encountered litigation today in the preliminary proceedings of the administration of the estate. Twelve persons claiming to be heirs, not named in the petition for administration, asked through legal counsel to be included among those who will share in the estate. The leading claimant is Margaret T. Baker, 70 years of age, a sister of Colonel Baker Baker, husband of the decedent, who died about twenty years ago. The estate is valued according to the petition at $1,000,000. Estimate of the value of Mrs. Baker's holdings made at the time of her death last month ranged from $5,000,000 to $20,000,000.

MORE VERY SHADY FINANCING FOUND

Shareholders of Black B. & L. Association Must Surrender Stock

PALO ALTO, Oct. 4.—Plans to reorganize the Palo Alto Mutual Building and Loan Association with a new board of directors and president, were discussed tonight at the meeting of the depositors and stockholders. Former Attorney General W. H. N. Hart, chairman of the meeting said:

"The only way the association can remain solvent is for each shareholder to surrender a proportionate amount of stock till the $100,000 shortage can be covered. Later the stockholders can recoup from the surplus of the association. If this is not agreed to by the association it will go under."

Senator Black's methods of obtaining money was further discussed when it was learned today that the $2500 mortgage on his Hamilton avenue home recorded in San Jose had been released by himself, acting for the association. This release was not authorized by directors. He then threatened the property again to the San Jose Building and Loan Association for $2500.

Another item is an "E" certificate of deposit for $500 made by Marshall Black to his mother of which there is no record on the books of the association. The amount does not appear in the cash receipts, yet the postpaid and "E" certificate was proposed to be cashed out and signed by Black and President H. T. Sloan. The deposit is highly incensed at mismanagement of property by directors G. W. Mosher, who secured a $5000 mortgage on his property; G. W. Harris for $500 and President H. T. Sloan for about $11,000.

BOY WHO KILLED HIS MOTHER IS CAPTURED

ST. ANTONY, Idaho, Oct. 4.—Arthur Whitaker, 12 years of age, was captured today after he had been driven by hunger from his hiding place in a hay stack, where he took refuge yesterday after he shot and killed his mother. The boy was taken to the county jail, where he related without a tear and with an unbroken voice how he had killed his mother.

PASSENGER ASSOCIATION.

DENVER, Oct. 4.—The American Passenger Association in convention today selected St. Paul, Minn., as the next meeting place and elected the following officers: President, A. W. Elliott, Jacksonville, Fla.; Vice president, Charles A. Mollen, Denver; secretary-treasurer, L. T. Mottet, Chicago.

WILSON LEADERS SOLICIT FUNDS FROM ENGLAND

(Special to the Republican.)

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Woodrow Wilson campaign is not confined to the United States. British manufacturers are being flooded with appeals for assistance. The letter from the national Wilson and Marshall League of which Wm. G. McAdoo is president, has been sent to all big manufacturers in Great Britain and in the letter is the statement that a complete record will be kept of those who help to make the great Democratic victory certain. The appeal for funds has been sent broadcast to big houses in industrial centers of England, conveying, of course the impression that should Woodrow Wilson win, practical free trade will come and British manufacturers will get a new foothold in the United States.

The circular to British manufacturers has at the head of it the names of Wm. McAdoo, Charles R. Crane and Stuart S. Gibbons. Crane is the Chicago Millionaire who subscribed to Wilson's pre-convention funds. Gibbons signed his name as secretary to the circular. E. A. Stansbury, one of the big men here in possession of the Wilson circular in discussing the appeal to English manufacturers said: "England is not interested in the Democratic party or its free trade program. We are placing some idea on free trade for the national campaign and as I have the tariff of lines of America, England has lost millions each year by free trade. There is no money to be had for Mr. Wilson in England."

MRS. ATHERTON PROMISES TO CUT OUT CIGARETTES

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—Mrs. Gertrude Atherton will no more smoke cigarettes in public at least not in this country.

When the noted California writer returned tonight from San Diego, where she made a speech in behalf of Woodrow Wilson, she was handed a letter from a W. C. T. U. leader said to have been written in behalf of 1909 women in Los Angeles. It was much different from some of the appeals of the League of the Anti-Church League which advised Los Angeles women to remain away from the meetings addressed by the novelist. The writer, Mrs. Martha W. Law, state lecturer of the W. C. T. U., set forth the effects of that organization to have enacted anti-cigarette law and requested that one so well known and respected to California as yourself should set an example that must tell against our endeavors in this direction."

After perusing the letter Mrs. Atherton announced her decision to refrain from smoking in public as long as she remained on this side of the Atlantic. "I do not smoke much, anyhow," said the writer. "Drinking is much more harmful and I don't drink, so when I feel in need of a slight stimulant, I smoke a cigarette. I am entirely in favor of the women who are working in the interests of the children of California and would do nothing that would injure their efforts."

WARNS AGAINST FEWER WOMEN SCHOOL TEACHERS

Superintendent of Instruction Hyatt Issues Bulletin Giving Views

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 4.—State Superintendent of Instruction Hyatt in the publication of his latest bulletin, sounds a warning against the agitation now under way for fewer women and more men teachers in the public schools. He says:

"When a board of trustees deliberately decide to select a man they are in danger. They are likely to overdo the thing in their zeal and determination to get a bifurcated individual who are likely to lose sight of the fact that it is still more necessary to get a good school teacher. A lady, intelligent, capable or dispassionate man is a mighty bad exchange for a capable, successful woman."

FREIGHTERS NOT TO STOP AT PORTLAND

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—Representatives of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company announced here today that there would be a re-organization of the company's coastwise business by which freighters would discontinue calling at Columbia, 1772 p.m. including Portland. The vessels will proceed directly from San Francisco to Puget Sound.

A traffic agreement has been concluded by which cargo consigned to the American-Hawaiian company will be taken to San Francisco and transhipped to the freighters on the Tacoma route.

LABOR CONVENTION TO BE AT SAN DIEGO

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 4.—President D. O. Sullivan of Sacramento, and Secretary-Treasurer Paul Schranzberg of San Francisco, officers of the State Federation of Labor, arrived in San Diego last night and today are preparing arrangements for the annual convention of the federation which will be called to order here Monday morning. Headquarters have been opened and the convention will close a week from today with election of officers.

ROOSEVELT SCORES "INFAMOUS CHARGES" OF TAFT PARTISANS

No Campaign Funds Asked Corporations; No Favors Granted; No Knowledge of Morgan Contributions; Taft and Wilson Men to be Called

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Theodore Roosevelt occupied a witness chair for three and a half hours today before the Senate investigating committee defending his administration, himself and his campaign associates against what he termed "infamous charges" and hearsay evidence.

He appeared before the committee at his own request, to answer statements made in August by John D. Archbold, that the Standard Oil Company had given $100,000 to the Republican campaign fund in 1904, under the impression that President Roosevelt knew of and approved acceptance of the contribution. Not only did Colonel Roosevelt deny this, but he put into the formal records of the committee a sweeping denial that he ever had solicited funds from any one while President; that any money had been received by the 1904 campaign committee with any expressed or implied promise of favors from the administration that excessive funds had been used in his 1904 campaign or in the 1908 campaign, or that money ever had been improperly used in his behalf, so far as he knew.

In reference to the Harriman fund of $240,000, raised in 1904, Colonel Roosevelt declared the stand of J. P. Morgan, George R. Sheldon and others had fully corroborated his earlier statements that this fund was raised expressly for the New York state campaign and had not been solicited by him for his own support in the fight for election that year.

"There was not one word spoken by Mr. Harriman or by me having any reference to any collection of funds for the national campaign," he said referring to his interview with Harriman in October, 1904. "On the contrary, the request was from Mr. Harriman that inasmuch as we had ample funds for the national campaign and as I had no knowledge of the use of money in the national campaign was safe, we could help him out in the state campaign."

"The sessions of the committee were picturesque throughout. Colonel Roosevelt arrived at the committee room ten minutes before the hour of opening. He progressed into the building with a march, and as he entered the room he surveyed through the corridors. Colonel Roosevelt was placed in a chair on a little square platform from which he looked down on the table around which sat Senators Clapp, Oliver, Pomeroy and Payner. William Loebe, Jr., his former private secretary, now collector of customs at New York, came with him and occupied a seat at his left. The former President turned repeatedly to ask Loebe for facts and records; and at the end of his testimony, Loebe himself took the stand to corroborate statements of Colonel Roosevelt."

SOME EXPRESSIONS.—Expressions that brought laughter from the committee and spectators interlarded the colonel's remarks throughout the day. Once he said: "I have actually sent for, while I was President, trust magnates, labor leaders, socialists, John L. Sullivan, 'Battling' Nelson"—there was a pause—"and Dr. Lyman Abbott."

This was in response to questions as to the propriety of his sending for J. H. Harriman in 1904 to discuss matters of legislation or campaign affairs. "If I am elected President," he added, "Mr. Rockefeller or anyone else wants to see me, I'll see him."

Again when Senator Pomeroy asked:

TRAIN ROBBERIES SECURE $10,000

Four Masked Men Loot Express Car on Oklahoma Run

WESTVILLE, Okla., Oct. 4.—Four masked men held up Kansas City-Southwest passenger train No. 4 northbound, three and a half miles north of Totopah tonight, ransacked the mail, blew open the safe in the express car and escaped into the wood covered hills that skirt the railroad at that point.

The men boarded the train as it stopped at a crossing a short distance from Totopah, crawling over the trestle, two of them covered the engineer and fireman with revolvers, while the others robbed the mail and express cars.

After wrecking the express car safe with nitroglycerin, the robbers entered the mail car and demanded all the "through mail." Refusing to accept the clerk's word that there was none, they ransacked the pouches, getting not more than a dozen letters and there are believed to contain little of value. The loot from the express car is estimated at $10,000.

William West, 22 years of age, who resides near by, saw the men climb on the train and he called to witnesses that a short time afterward, his order was discarded. Two miles further on the men on the trestle cut the air and brought the train to a stop. As he did so, he leaped to the ground and the robbers leaped the express car started to work.

L. H. Kern, express messenger, and J. L. Williams, baggageman, both of Kansas City, at the point of robbery, were driven behind a pile of trunks and forced to turn their backs while the robbers worked.

There were two safes aboard—a local safe containing packages to be delivered along the route, and another containing valuables for Kansas City and the points beyond. Both were wrecked. The top of the local safe was blown through the roof of the car. During the explosion the mask of one robber was blown off. Kern believes he can identify the men.

CHINESE REBEL MAY SLAUGHTER FOREIGNERS

General Pung Demands $315,000 From Republican Authorities

AMOY, China, Oct. 4.—Threats of sacrifice European lives at Poochow have been uttered by General Pung, unless his demand for $315,000 (about $315,000) from the authorities are acceded to.

The numerous troops with General Pung number 10,000 to 20,000 men. A force of five thousand government troops is marching from Nanking to meet the rebels.

The missionaries have been recalled from the Hinchew district to the north of this city, where serious disorder has existed for some time.

PRICES ARE FIXED FOR WALNUT CROP

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—Members of the California Walnut Growers' Association met here today with members of the Los Nietos, Mountain View and Golden Belt Associations, to discuss the prices for the coming crop.

No. 1 soft shells were priced at 14c, standard, or hard shells, 12c; No. 2 soft shells 10c, and 16c cents for bunched nuts. This year's output was estimated at 11,500 tons, which, it was thought, at the prices fixed, would bring the growers about $2,000,000.

BATTELLE CHARGED WITH NON-SUPPORT

San Francisco Jail Is End of Rapid Fire Romance in Fresno

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—Charles Thornton Battelle, who says he is heir to an estate of $25,000 in the East and that he is a member of a prominent New York state family was arrested here today on complaint of his wife, Mrs. Evelyn Michelson Battelle of Oakland, who charges him with failure to provide. He was taken to Oakland and is held in $2000 bail.

The couple were married in Fresno, May 30, ten days after their first meeting. According to Mrs. Battelle her husband forced her to work in a caping establishment to support them both.

According to Train Michelson, a brother of Mrs. Battelle, Battelle said he had been left $25,000 by a cousin, Miss Cornelia Louise Battelle of New York City.

When Charles T. Battelle met Miss Evelyn Michelson in Fresno, he was posing as a washing machine scheme. He found that Miss Michelson's sister had a contract that prevented him from working the territory and while arranging with her for a satisfactory settlement of the difficulty, he met and married Evelyn Michelson.

After washing machine business didn't pay and Battelle made another venture. He was arrested for failing to pay two board bills in this city and then left for Oakland. Battelle's claim of being heir to a big fortune, is not believed by relatives of his wife. At one place where he boarded in Fresno after his marriage, he deposited upon his alleged legacy to let him remain. This fact was mentioned when he was arrested.

TO REORGANIZE COMPANY

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 4.—Officers of the Tribune Power Company were directed today to take what action is necessary to carry out the recent instructions of the stockholders reorganizing the company. The company will be sold at public auction at Terminal City, November 18, in order to bring about the reorganization.

RYAN PROBABLY

IS TO LEAD IN PROGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN

spirit which governs the action. But during a political campaign we have a right to compare the man's statements and actions upon the stump with his statements and actions while in office in order to determine, not whether the man is honest, but whether he has not intoxicated himself with the excitement of political campaign.

ROOSEVELT AND BEVERIDGE.

"In my judgment certain men now seeking the suffrage of the people as President of the United States and governor of the state of Indiana are victims of self intoxication. President Roosevelt and ex-Senator Beveridge, during the long period of their holding office in the United States were so closely allied with the vicious tendencies in the economic life of the people and were so active in defending the trusts and the law and selling Perkins, Morgan and Harriman, that our people may well inquire what has come over the spirit of their dreams."

"When the campaign is over and self intoxication has passed away, will this better self disappear and will the old theories of right and conduct, which in the past years guided and controlled them, again take possession of their official lives provided they are in office. May we not think and reasonably expect that the Perkins, Morgan and the Harrimans will sit close to the throne if these men again be given power?"

WILSON IN INDIANA.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Governor Woodrow Wilson made a strenuous campaign sweep today through Indiana, covering a great portion of the state in a special train and making six set speeches.

He reached Chicago at nightfall, spent two hours with Jos. E. Davies, secretary of the national committee, and members of the western headquarters and continued his trip to Omaha and Lincoln. Big crowds greeted the governor everywhere.

The governor developed in his speech at Chicago, Ind., at attack on his two opponents.

"The two men who lead the two sections of the Republican party," said the governor, "have in turn presided over the very processes that have got us into trouble."

"No man in the United States was ever more trusted, was ever more blindly trusted than the leader of the third party during the seven and a half years he was President of the United States. Is it possible that he has just discovered the deep needs of humanity? Is it possible that it required a defeat in the first Chicago convention to convince him that he had been doing wrong? Is it possible the first time he sees that he wasted seven and a half years during which he could have led the American people to any triumph of reform, which he had chosen to lead them?"

AS TO CALIFORNIA.

The governor referred briefly in his speech at Plymouth, Ind., to the electoral situation in California.

"Those very men who have flung themselves out of the Republican party and say they are no longer in it, are in when they can stay in it, as witness what has been done in California, where they have shut the members of the family off the electoral ticket and captured it themselves—where that family is, so far as the majority is concerned, on their side they are willing to stay in the family."

"But even where they are out of the family, they show that they are doing the same kind of thinking that they always have done. The third party does not condemn the protective tariff except where the beneficiaries of the protective tariff refuse to divide with the people."

At Gary, Ind., the governor said: "I want to ask the people of Gary if it is their observation that the employees of the United States Steel corporation are better paid than the average of employees in the United States. The whole country knows that wherever it has business, it depresses wages to the lowest level. Now, the steel corporation is one of the chief beneficiaries of the tariff and you have been told ever since you can remember that the tariff meant high wages to you. I do not have a price to this audience that that is a piece of buncombe."

BRYAN ON MORGAN.

WICHITA, Oct. 4.—J. P. Morgan came in for scathing denunciation today in William J. Bryan's trip across central Kansas. From Lindsborg, where he began the day, to Wichita, where he ended tonight, Bryan kept after the trust magnate, Mr. Morgan, and charged him as putting "No. 2" Perkins in his address at Lindsborg. "Perkins is now neglecting his business to elect a President who will look after the trust magnates' children," Bryan accused him to Mr. Morgan, the distinguished financier, who will therefore enter the cell of the public memory as a traitor No. 2.

Mr. Morgan declares he gives to campaign contributions only out of regard for the public welfare. He does not give to Democratic campaign funds simply because he regards Democratic success as a menace to the country's welfare.

"I will shame the selfish and sordid to look upon this self-carved statue standing up against the sky—Morgan, the selfish, the disinterested, the patriotic citizen who devotes all his spare time to purchasing the election of proper presidential candidates."

At Wellington, Bryan said: "Roosevelt is not a pioneer in reform. For sixteen years whenever I have been out there, I have found the same old methods I have found the sting of his lash upon my back."

TO SUPPORT WILSON.

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 4.—The San Bernardino Sun, which has been a strong supporter of President Taft, announced today that henceforth it will support Woodrow Wilson.

The paper declared that although not favoring the Democratic platform, the action of the state Supreme Court in designating the Roosevelt electors as Republicans demanded the change.

CHARGES SANTA FE BLOCKS CROSSING.

Mr. Evans of 856 P street reported to the police last night that he had been unable to get across the Santa Fe crossing at Ventura street for half an hour because of a string of box cars across the crossing. Evans said this was a nightly occurrence between 7 and 9 o'clock and that often pedestrians and vehicles were compelled to wait on one side of the track for a half hour or more.

STABBED IN CHEEK BY UNKNOWN VANDAL.

While on his way to the Southern Pacific depot at Selma last night Nick Gliscos was attacked by an unknown assailant and stabbed in the cheek with a dull knife. Gliscos is employed in a packing house in Selma. He managed to get to the depot and boarded the train for Fresno. He made a report of the affair to the police and was treated at the emergency hospital.

DOS PALOS RESIDENT IS ROBBED OF $10.

Accused by three men at the entrance to the alley back of the Haines hotel on Tulare street, H. M. Smith of Dos Palos was held up and robbed last night of $10 and a gold watch. He made a report of the robbery to Patrolman Akers in Chinatown but was unable to give a good description of the highwaymen. He said that they choked him into submission.

SUES HIS POLITICAL OPPONENTS FOR LIBEL.

Assemblyman March Objects to Being Called "Tom Fox's Man"

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 4.—Assemblyman John C. March, who was defeated for the Republican nomination for the state Senate in this district last month, brought suit for defamation of character today against his successful opponent, O. G. Hopkins and thirty-one other prominent Progressive leaders, including Deputy Attorney General M. C. Glenn, Colonel P. F. Conarty, assistant adjutant general, Ex-Mayor Clinton L. White and Robert A. Waring of the state controller's office. Prior to the primary the two local Progressive clubs, of which the defendants are officers, published a paper called the Bandanna in which attacks were made upon March and others. It was asserted that March while judge was "Tom Fox's man." March alleges that he has not been on terms of either personal or political friendship with Fox. As attorney for March in the damage suit, Grove L. Johnson, father of the governor, appears.

EDDIE RETIRES FROM OFFICE.

Will Fight Charges of Immorality From Position as Private Citizen

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—City President Guy Eddle announced today his voluntary retirement from office until the charges of misbehavior brought against him have been disposed of. He took this action, he said, upon the advice of his counsel.

Over the protests of his attorneys, the preliminary examination of Eddle on the warrant charging him with contributing to the dependency of a minor was set today by Judge Wilbur for 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

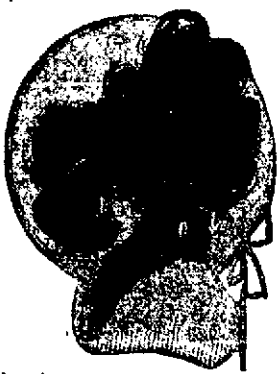

Eddle's attorneys asked for a continuance of ten days but Judge Wilbur held that the statute provided for a hearing within from two to six days after arraignment.

Eddle declared that he needed more time. "This is very bad for me," he said, "I need more time. I cannot help but think this is not right."

SPECIAL TRAINS FROM MANY TOWNS BRING HUNDREDS OF PLEASURE SEEKERS TO FAIR

Automobile Races This Afternoon Will Mark Close of Big Show; Horse Show Success

A raw wind, sweeping the dust from the fair grounds and depositing it on the exhibits and on the people, did not succeed in decreasing the attendance at the Fresno fair yesterday and approximately 5,000 people passed through the gates in the afternoon. Another crowd, almost as large, went out last night to witness the second big display of fireworks of the week.

The majority of the visitors remained with music during the day. In the morning, the Sanger band played in front of Agricultural hall and one or two other places on the grounds, and in the afternoon the Fresno and Reedley bands shared the honors in playing for the horse show and the horse races.

It was Reelley-Sanger-Kerman-Clovis-Kingsburg day at the fair grounds yesterday and the attendance was materially swelled by the number that came from these towns. Reedley, Kerman and Sanger were particularly well represented by special trains.

The majority of the visitors remained to see the fireworks last night. Every business house in the town of Kerman and all the schools in the entire district were closed in celebration of Kerman day at the county fair.

More than 200 people came to Fresno on a special train and as many more made the trip by private conveyance. The special returned after the fireworks.

As was the case last year when Kerman won the blue ribbon, the Kerman exhibit was the rallying place for the crowd yesterday. Four hundred yellow and green badges, the colors of the commercial association, were distributed. The attendance from Kerman would have been larger had it not been for the strong wind, which came up in the morning and which influenced many farmers to stay at home and protect their rafts from sand and threatened rain.

Today is the final day of the fair and this will be Coaling day. Word was received here yesterday that the effect of the location of about 500 horses coming from the oil city to attend the fair and witness the automobile races, which will be the big feature of the afternoon program.

The horse show and the races were the double attraction offered visitors at the fair yesterday afternoon. The horse show took place in front of the grand stand, while the races were in progress and as a result, interest did not die out at any time.

RIDES DONKEY
Wild West broncho busting, with a Shetland pony and a donkey as the headliners, proved such an attraction at the close of the afternoon that even after the regular program had been concluded, the crowd remained in the grandstand, cheering those who tried to ride the fiery little steeds.

After many unsuccessful attempts had been made to ride the mule, even by "Rope Riders" who protested that they could ride him if a rope was tied around him, it remained for John Zapp, to solve the difficulty and show how it could be done. Zapp jumped on the back of the mule, and the donkey, for got that he ever knew anything about bucking. The performance brought a howl of delight from the crowd.

Drift stallions, dray horses, harness horses and saddle horses were exhibited in front of the grandstand. This was the first horse show ever held in Fresno.

Mrs. Leta I. Zapp also contributed to the show with her trick horse "Society," who shocked the audience by making the "Texas Tommy." She also did some horsemanship.

A Shetland pony team race and running race also created amusement. "The big team won," shouted Starter Smith. "The little team was second." In the running race a monkey was one of the jockeys and he kept his eyes on the field to see who was running near him. "The big black won," the monkey second and the little black third, shouted Smith.

Jack Hawn brought out two champions, which ran an eighth of a mile, but owing to the fact that there was no real contest, the race did not attract a great deal of interest, outside of the fact that the vehicles were chartered.

A class of horses was displayed in the paddock in front of the grandstand, but with two or three exceptions all were saddle horses, competing for green and white ribbons offered for gifted animals.

Judging of the exhibits in the machinery hall was also started yesterday and will be completed this morning. The judging contest, which has been in progress all week, will not be closed until tonight.

Two fires called out the chemical engine yesterday, but in none of them was there any damage done. They were due to smoking stoves used in sandwich stands. One of these fires in the morning was under the grandstand, but it was extinguished without any trouble. The second occurred shortly before dark last night.

FIREWORK DISPLAY
A second display of fireworks at the fair grounds last night proved to be equally as elaborate as the one given on Wednesday night, and many "chills" and "Ahs" were called from the crowd in attendance. The wind blew down early in the evening, and although the display was chiefly the display earned for itself a large amount of merited applause.

Opening with aerial cannonading, in which signal rockets were sent up and in which at times the entire field was brilliantly lighted, the rocket wheel and other set pieces kept the audience in a constant state of expectancy. There was Jumbo III, who did everything but eat peanuts; then there was Aladdin's Lamin, pyrotechnics, traveling the air as aeroplanes, led propelled by chemicals; Niagara Falls, and a minute later, the explosion of the Monitor and the Mermaid. The correct lines of the vessels are shown in fire.

The fireworks displays have been features of the Fresno fairs for three years, and the reputation they now hold is the means of drawing large crowds from far and near to witness them.

The results to the horse show were announced last night by the judges, with one or two exceptions. One or two classes could not be reached yesterday, so will be judged today.

AUTO RACES TODAY
The racing program at the county fair will come to a close this afternoon with a car race of 100 yards.

The first race of the afternoon will be promptly at 2 o'clock. The program has been prepared by the Fresno Automobile Dealers' Association, under whose auspices the meet is to be held.

The function of the American Automobile Association was secured a few days ago and it is the California representative of the A. A. A. arrived here last night to view the events.

At 10 o'clock this morning, Walker will confer with the owners and drivers at the Grand Central hotel for the purpose of explaining the working rule of the A. A. A. Several noted drivers are to handle the cars on the track today and exciting races will be the result. Walker will instruct the owners and drivers to have their cars on the track promptly so as to prevent no long delays between races.

At the conference this morning, Walker will be asked to decide the question as to the number of entries in the race for all local drivers believe seven cars on the track at the time will prove dangerous and for this reason they want to divide the race for all into two heats with four cars in one race and three in the other.

TRACK IS FAST
After the last horse race of the week program had been run off yesterday afternoon a force of men began work on the track which will be put into first class shape for the afternoon.

A sprinkling cart will be kept on hand and the track is to be covered with water after each race. This will keep down the dust and make the track firm and insure fast time. None of the cars entered today are stock machines and all of the drivers are professionals. Under the rules of the A. A. A. the owners cannot advertise their entries as stock cars.

FAST CARS ENTERED
The racing committee, from the dealers' association consists of C. H. Fink, C. W. Johnson and E. B. Waterman. No entries have been secured for the first race of ten miles but the committee feels certain that the entries will come forward today in time to have several starters before 2 o'clock rolls around. The second race will be for five miles, the second for miles and the third, or free for all, twenty-five miles for $500. If the entries are filled for the first race of ten miles the public will witness a lengthy card. Following are the names of the cars, owners and drivers for the second, third and fourth events.

REGISTER TODAY

Today is the last time that any citizen in California may register for the presidential contest of next month. It therefore behooves all who have the voting franchise and who have any sort of opinion on the tenure of the presidency, or who have any feeling of responsibility regarding voting, to take care that by tonight their names are enrolled either at the county clerk's office or at one of the other places where registration is provided for.

To those who think that the holding of office and the discharge of political duties have anything whatever to do with daily life, there are two definite obligations, registration and voting. The formation of such opinions immediately makes voting a duty, under no circumstances to be missed by an honest man or woman.

If the man who is President or the man who is Congressman or legislator or supervisor or judge, has anything to do with the cost of living or the opportunity for work, or the amount of business, or the efficiency of government, in providing for the welfare of citizens, then register and vote.

If the holding of any of these offices has anything to do with your pride as a citizen, or the freedom with which you enter into your activities as a member of the community in which you live, then register and vote.

You have probably a thousand times in the past year commented upon the character and actions of some of those who hold these offices. This shows you are interested. Be interested enough to play your part in selecting those who will hold these offices next year. If you don't, you are merely a public scold and should be put in the pillory.

Voting seems easy, and at times it seems unimportant. But it should be provided for as definitely in the scheme of each man's life as is pay day or rent day, or spring plowing or turning trays when a rain is threatening. It should be done intelligently, but mere lack of information on any one point should never be an excuse for not voting. Register and vote, come way, and if you prepare to vote, it is certain that you will make some effort to vote intelligently. It is the man or woman who is indifferent to voting who is most likely to be inaccurate or unreasoning in his attitude toward public affairs.

WHY WE STRUGGLE

The struggle for existence among human beings has taken on many forms during the progress of the ages, from the time of the cave man to the present. Once it was entirely animal, a fight for the possession of such food as the nature brought forth each spring and autumn. Later it took the form of a combat for the possession of coveted meadows, for pasturage of cattle, and with the beginning of accumulated capital in the shape of sheep and cattle, came the substitution of brigandage and blackmail for simple assault and murder. In the ages since then, with the formation of tribes and nations, settled customs and fondness for settled homes, struggles for patriotism, for religion and for race have been added to the simpler forms of combat for food and shelter, but with the same foundation, as far as human passions and ambitions are concerned.

With the present high development of industry and the concentration of population due to the increase of mechanical power and the use of machinery, class wars are threatening to be the final form of the human struggle for existence. Everywhere we find a tendency to forget all lines of cleavage except those that result from the newer social structure. It is not merely the fight of capital against labor. This is the simplest form of the content. There is the fight of one class of labor against another, skilled against unskilled, those unwilling to work at those living by their brains, or sometimes more by their wits, as against those who can merely use brute force, or brute force modified and directed by a very simple form of intelligence. These are the social frictions to which we are now becoming used.

All the more interesting is it to us then to find that there is a great portion of the world still remapping, who think little or nothing of class struggles and are interested only in the older conflicts. We have them all, somewhere in the world, in Ireland, at the present time, a political struggle is modified by passions that are almost entirely religious. In the Balkans, the struggle is slightly religious but much more racial, the Slavs of all the nations hating the Turks. To neither one of these peoples is a question of class of any importance. Rich and poor fight alike for their religion or their race.

We learn from facts such as these that after all there is little of great importance that is individual, and much that is social. The life of a man in London is as important to him, as in a village in Greece. But the Englishman will look at all questions not from the point of view of his individual life, but from that of his nation, of his class, or his social surroundings generally. In the same way, the Greek will not think of war with reference to his individual dangers but as to the dangers to his tribe or society, and his bravery or cowardice, his achievement or self sacrifice will be social rather than individual. The person is of little importance in any country or in any age, except as the individual is nourished and protected for the benefit of society as a whole.

PARTNERS

The alliance of Democratic office seekers with Wall Street manipulators who were unsuccessful in getting Theodore Roosevelt as President to agree to their schemes has met its Waterloo with the appearance of Roosevelt yesterday before the Senate campaign committee. The attack on Roosevelt with reference to the campaign contributions of 1904 was defeated the minute it was brought out in the open.

The contributions of that year were made through a party organization which for years had been run independently of Roosevelt and which had been supported for years as a feature of opposing free trade efforts of the Democratic party. It was when those who contributed to the campaign funds found that they could not influence the administration of President Roosevelt that they became embittered. Hence the partnership between Archibald and Penrose on the one side, and such Democratic leaders as Pomeroy on the other. With each of them it has been anything but Roosevelt. And through it all, it stands out clearly that Roosevelt, as a statesman, has stood continuously for the interests of the whole people and for a protective tariff as a means of maintaining the standard of living of the whole people.

The partnership of Archibald has not been a dividend paying proposition.

TOO MUCH LAUNDRY

It is quite the fashion now for each man or woman to have an opinion about the high cost of living. The tariff and the trusts are only the first two items on a list of guesses that would reach from here to Penobscot and then back to the Devil's Den. You pay your high cost and you take your choice of reasons political or providential.

However, with a view to bringing forth the final word on this obtrusive subject, on which thoughtful railway presidents and college professors of the Greek variety have pondered with indifferent results, the modern steam laundry might be suggested as the real goat. It is the laundry that makes the pay check slim and the red ink balance large.

The laundry gets us both ways. It encourages us to buy clothes that will make up well, and to keep cleaner by frequent washing, and then it takes care of the haberdasher and the department store by putting a saw edge on the collars, and gently cutting a slit down each side of your shirt the second time the shirt is returned. This is of course, provided the shirt is sent back at all. It may be some other man's garment that is returned, two sizes too small.

Let us reduce the cost of living. Let every man wash his own linen, and return to the simple life and the full pocket book.

THE ELECTRIC HOTEL

In the October Strand there is an interesting article descriptive of the Electric Hotel which Georgia Knap is building in Paris.

Every room in the hotel, he says, is in direct communication with the pantry, which is situated in the basement. Around the combined kitchen and pantry you see the electric cooking apparatus to which the electric lights—I cannot think of a better word for them—are placed on the numerous little tables here and there. What happens? An occupant in one of the rooms desires breakfast, and immediately a voice, issuing from the chandelier, where one of my loud-speaking telephones is hidden, asks what monsieur desires. Without going to the trouble of seizing a telephone and speaking into a receiver, he gives his orders. Every word he says, though it is spoken in quite an ordinary tone, is heard by the invisible servant. First of all, he wishes the shutters to be opened and the blinds drawn. All such things are controlled from the servants' quarters. The room he finds too hot; its heat must be modified. Then he will be glad to have his morning coffee and rolls, his newspaper, and his correspondence. No servant said that before—that is to say, in five or six minutes his wishes are attended to. How does he receive his breakfast, etc.? Through the door, to which it is carried by a servant? No, no, I have changed all that. This table is in communication with one of the lifts in the kitchen below. All the servant has got to do is to place the little dejeuner on the tray of the lift and turn on the electric current. On the tray and its contents reaching the top of the table, the top opens automatically, and the tray, secured by a catch, forms the top of the piece of furniture. The reverse of this happens when the occupant of the room has finished his meal. He touches a button, and immediately the tray and its contents descend to the office.

Wife—"Here it is, I o. m., and husband not home yet. I'll sleep here in the attic, and when he comes home he'll find I'm missing and be scared to death. He'll think I've been drowned. I'll teach him to stay out so late."

Husband (one hour later)—"Great Scott, 2 o'clock. How to get in without waking her. I hope the door won't squeak."

Husband—"This is great. Got in without waking her and without lighting a light."

LEGISLATION IN INTEREST OF HUMANITY, IN PROGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN

That which is on Mr. Roosevelt's heart more than any other subject in this campaign is the enactment of legislation that will help laboring men, and elevate the position of the working women of the nation. He wants a law fixing a minimum wage scale for women, an 8-hour working day for continuous employment in industrial concerns, and a general workmen's compensation law.

He believes that eight hours of continuous labor in any of our great industrial pursuits is all that any man or woman should be expected to perform. He believes that the miserable pittance for which thousands of the girls and women have to work in the sweat shops and other squalid places of employment in our great commercial and industrial centers should be increased, so that they will get fair wages.

It is a well known fact that in many manufacturing establishments, in the sweat shops, and even in the department stores in our great cities, the wages paid to women are not sufficient to support them and their children. Mr. Roosevelt emphatically declares that the moral and physical welfare of the nation demands that they be paid better wages.

His views in favor of a national compensation law for industrial workers are equally as sound. During the last session of Congress the Senate passed a bill providing for a workmen's compensation to railway employees, but the House of Representatives failed to pass the measure, so that it has not yet become a law.

In my opinion it has been blocked largely by the lobby which was maintained in Washington last winter for attorneys whose business consists largely of personal injury cases.

If a railway fireman with a wife and children is killed in a railroad accident, the chances are that his widow will have to sue the company for damages for the loss of her husband. She will be compelled to pay the lawyer from 40 to 60 per cent of the amount of the money which she ultimately receives. Experience demonstrates that she will in the end receive less than $2,500. Out of this must be paid her attorney's fees, and other incidental expenses. This meager relief is usually received after two or three years of litigation attended with the anxiety and worry that always attend uncertain litigation.

Mr. Roosevelt advocates a policy that would assess against the railroad company a certain amount for the benefit of this widow and children, and make such amount a charge upon the transportation business of the country. The same or any other expense that the railroad incurs. Under this proposed plan the dependent family would receive immediately upon the death of the workman this benefit. The wife and children not only would receive the money when most needed, but would be freed from the worry and anxiety of doubtful litigation, and from the further burden of excessive attorney's fees.

If in a steel industry or a woolen mill or any other great manufacturing enterprise, a man's arm is torn off, instead of having to sue the company and go through a long period of litigation in his efforts to collect damages, Mr. Roosevelt would have a law fixing the amount of damage that the man should have as a result of the injury, and prescribing the manner in which it should be paid. The amount of damages would be as-

Increase of Wealth

Secretary James Wilson of the Department of Agriculture, who has been touring the West gathering statistics upon which to base his estimates, is authority for the statement that the phenomenal for the year 1912 has added plus billions of dollars to the nation's wealth. The secretary is also responsible for the announcement that the entire nation—all classes—is on the threshold of an era of unprecedented prosperity. The secretary is largely due to long-standing throughout the West, and which fact he also attributes to the high cost of meat in the following: the price of Indians, cowboys and cattle have been out up by home owners who have not yet started to breed cattle. When they do the land will support more cattle to the acre than it ever did in the days of the range and the price of meat will come down. The killing of calves must be stopped if the price of the case of living is to be checked. Proof is most readily found in a feed and there is every reason to favor of raising it. The increase in the price of meat is a corresponding increase in the price of all necessities. The solution of the problem is in the hands of the people themselves. If there is no market for meat there will be no calves slaughtered. San Luis Obispo Telegram.

SOCIETY

The most enjoyable event of the early season among the members of the young people's society was that given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Harris on Wednesday evening, those members of the Bridgettes Club holding low scores from last season's games entertaining with a dancing party in compliment to the other ten members. The spacious rooms were thrown together for an ideal ball room, and a simple adornment of garden flowers beautified the setting. Cooling beverages were dispensed from a punch bowl during the dancing hours, and later in the evening tea was served. Attractive little dance programs displayed the artistic work of several of the club members, in the form of water color sketches.

The hostesses for the evening were Misses Sally Sample, Edith Hayden, Constance and Margherita Beveridge, Ethel Pierce, Dorothy Noble, Anne Collins, Gertrude Smith, Isabelle Hoover and Mrs. Clinton Collins, and their guests were Misses Jenny Wilson, Ethel Shaver, Marcia Edwards, Helen Rogers, Eleanor Webster, Anne Tupper, Georgia and Eva Clark, Marjorie Harris, Lois Perkins of Visalia, Mrs. Edwin Little, Messrs. Watson of Princeton, Vernon Churchill of Herman, Thomas Wilson of Coalinga, Hower Rowell, Gus Hoover, Leon and Six Levy, Will Truxaw, Francis Burke, Lester Eastin, Reed Schaefer, Everett Wilcox, Gerald Thomas, James Beveridge, Paul Wilson, Chester Warlow, Blaine Rogers, Edwin Little, Dr. Kenneth Stanford of San Francisco.

Dr. Clinton Collins, Louis Thomas of Portland, and Henry White.

Mrs. Lois Perkins of Visalia is the house guest of Miss Dorothy Noble over the week end.

Louis Thomas of Portland is spending some time in Fresno and is enjoying a visit with his brother, Gerald Thomas.

Chester Warlow came down from Stanford for a week end visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Warlow.

The Epworth League of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church have planned a unique entertainment for this evening, which will be given in the basement parlors of the church. The entertainment is termed a college social, and a complete college course is promised in one evening beginning with the enrollment at 8 o'clock through the commencement exercises at 11. Judge W. D. Crichton is the dean of the college, and S. A. Laddetter is the "prexy." The college course includes the following schedule: enrollment, recitation, three arts concert (at which some excellent musical numbers will be given), president's reception, the tug of war by the sororities, football game by the fraternities, the commencement exercises, and a post-graduate course.

Mrs. Henry Musick and her son, Alvin Musick, and Miss Mabel Ayers, who have been traveling in the north, arrived in Fresno last night to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Musick for a short while.

Miss Gaele Rohrer is spending the week in town visiting Miss Cuba Wallace at the Miles Wallace residence, on Glenn avenue.

Mrs. Eugene Thompson is anticipating a visit from her mother, Mrs. W. D. Morris, who will come down from Berkeley some time next week.

Mrs. Charles W. Musick has returned from a summer's sojourn in Oakland and Ocean Park.

The art department of the high school and normal school is already beginning to plan for first concert, and under the guidance of Miss Mary Watson, who has charge of both branches, and Miss Maude Elizabeth Love, who has been managing the high school work. The date will be set later.

Edwin Einstein is in Fresno for a few weeks visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Einstein, at their home on K street, having recently returned to the United States after a most interesting trip of several months' duration. Mr. Einstein was one of three college students from the University of California to attend the third international Congress of American Students, which was held at Lima, Peru. His accounts of it are of much interest.

There were twelve college men in the ensemble of one hundred and thirty students. The object of the congress is to meet and discuss university problems, and from the problems presented the inference is drawn that the South and Central American universities are not as progressive as those of the United States. They are more than a congress of students, these meetings, and act as a sort of international peace meeting, each country sending delegates, whose task is to bespeak their mission.

Since graduating from the University of California, Mr. Einstein has gone in the moving picture business, and while coming back from South America he stopped off at the Panama Canal for several weeks and made a number of films on the works. As these were disposed of in the East, it is not probable that they will be shown in California, and if so will be unidentified as his pictures. Before returning great, Mr. Einstein spent several weeks in New York and other points of interest. He will spend several days in Fresno before returning to Berkeley, where he makes his headquarters.

The Emerson Guild of the Unitarian church held its first meeting of the season last night, and made various plans for the year's work, during the business session which absorbed the early evening hours. Later a social hour was enjoyed, during which musical numbers were featured.

The members of the Friday Club assembled at the home of Mrs. Charles Jenney yesterday afternoon, to celebrate the President's Day, the initial function of the season. The cosmos were prettily arranged, their dalliance vying with some gorgeous American Beauty roses, used in ornamentation of the rooms. The roll call was responded to by various amusing little incidents of the summer, which were cleverly told in rhyme. Music lent its charm to the occasion. Mrs. Henry Hawson giving two beautiful instrumental numbers, "Evening Song," by Schumann, and "Highland Lullaby," by Boudette.

Miss Minnie Marshall graciously contributed to the pleasure of the occasion with some of her favorite vocal numbers, with accompaniments played by Mrs. William Marshall. Among them was Rubenstein's "The Swan," "New Virginia Dance" was the piano duet given by Mrs. Henry Hawson and Mrs. Chase Sayre. After a guessing contest, which concluded the afternoon's program, tempting refreshments were served.

Mrs. Mabel Forsey will preside at a dinner this evening at the W. F. Forey country place on Pierce avenue, to which a number of the younger set have been asked.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sloan are being congratulated over the arrival of a little son at their home.

Mrs. J. C. Vaughn and daughter Miss Madge Vaughn left last night for Fowler, where they will spend the week-end with Mrs. Vaughn's son, H. H. Vaughn.

FINE DOS PALOS MEN FOR SELLING LIQUOR

Attorneys for Defendants Give Notice of Appeal to Superior Court

L. Tannucci and G. Terretti, who conducted a winery near Dos Palos and who were found guilty by a jury some time ago for selling liquor without a license, appeared before City Justice Graham yesterday morning and were fined. Tannucci was fined $150 while Terretti was fined $200. The smaller fine was imposed upon Tannucci because there was conflicting evidence as to whether he was in the winery when the liquor was sold.

Attorney Burns and Watkins for the defendants made a motion for a new trial on the ground that the complaint under which the men were tried did not constitute a public offense but the motion was denied. The attorneys then gave notice that the case would be appealed to the Superior Court.

ASKS GUARDIANSHIP OF GRANDCHILDREN

Mrs. Martha Azevedo Brings Severe Accusations Against Married Daughter

Judge Cheneb issued citation yesterday requiring Joseph August and wife, Virginia, to appear in court on Monday next to show cause why letters of guardianship should not be granted Mrs. Martha Azevedo over the three August grandchildren who have been in her practical care and custody for the last several years.

August, the father, consents to the guardianship, and Mrs. Azevedo in support of her petition makes grave charges, being especially severe against her daughter, as a person morally unfit to have the bringing up of the children. The grandmother says that the little girl and their brother were with their parents at Elmhurst when they were given over to her by the father. For more than three years she charges that the parents have had continuous domestic trouble, lived apart most of the time, the periods of reconciliation lasted for a week and never more than a month at a time, while the separations continued for periods of six to eight months.

During these periods of reconciliation the children would be called for by the parents, but never the same ones in succession, and upon return they invariably would be received by the grandmother in filthy and ragged condition and usually in ill health.

Mrs. Azevedo says her daughter is an unfit person to have the children, and that the least of her accusations is that she is cruel to her husband, uses profane language, has assaulted him with knife and hatchet and associates with improper persons.

MATINEE AT TEAL'S THEATER TODAY

This is matinee day at Teal's theater and a better matinee bill for the ladies and children could not be chosen than "The Hag's Daughter." The production is full of class and contains many pretty singing and dancing numbers.

The comedy of the show is clever to an extreme and Bell and Onslow simply keep the house in convulsions of laughter.

General extolment number is one of the hits of the show and takes encore after encore. Scholom do you find such voices in a popular priced musical show as the Elite Company possesses. Miss Loretto and Miss Lang always receive big applause with their numbers, and pretty Hazel Belmont, the cute comedienne, takes the house by storm with her rag numbers.

Tonight will be the last chance to see this bill, for tomorrow the show changes to one of Herb Bell's best comedies, "Off to the Front." Last night a packed house saw the content of the pretty chorus girls and went wild with enthusiasm at their various stunts.

TO VISIT CHILDREN UNDER COURT ORDER

Judge Austin Makes a Drastic Order in the Divorce Case of the Colvins

Judge Austin made an order yesterday in the notoriously fought divorce case of Catherine S. Colvin against W. Colvin to permit her to enjoy undisturbed visits to the children, who are pending the determination of the case at the home of the father on Lewis street. Mrs. Colvin is permitted to visit the children on Tuesdays and Fridays accompanied by Mrs. Grise, the matron of the county jail to afford her protection. The order is singular in declaring that during the visits the husband and any and all other persons refrain from entering the room where the mother is with the children or from molesting or interfering with her. Colvin is especially forbidden from removing the children out of the county. The Colvin divorce suit has been pending since July last, she filing two complaints making charges of cruelty and he retaliating with other charges in his answer.

DIVIDEND DECLARED BY PACIFIC CRUDE

Sum of $69,690 Divided Among Stockholders; Midway Production Near Half Million Barrels

MARICOPA, Oct. 4.—The Pacific Crude Oil Company, which has the big gusher on section 32-31-23, paid a 10 per cent share dividend of $69,690 in August, and recently 1,600 shares of its stock sold in Los Angeles for five cents per share. The Pacific Crude operates properties also in the Kern river field.

The Associated Oil Company buys the Kern river production at 50 cents a barrel under a three-year contract expiring December 31st next, and operates under this contract up to July 31st last were 160,000 barrels.

The Midway production goes to the Standard Oil Company under contract of date March 5th and August 17th this year, calling for $50,000 barrels, at from 35 to 50 cents per barrel, according to the gravity of the oil.

Up to August 17th, deliveries had been made from the Midway property of close to half a million barrels. The Pacific Crude gusher is said to be producing 8,500 to 10,000 barrels a day with no signs of a let-up. The well is about 2,500 feet deep. About 7,500 to 10,000 barrels of this gusher's oil was lost by fire last June.

Affairs of the "little" stockholders of the Midway Southern Oil Company, which is operating on section 8-11-25, are being looked after here by Mrs. Emma Davis, its president, of Long Beach.

The Midway Southern is said to have played in hard luck lately by reason of certain heavy stockholders trying to freeze out the smaller stockholders and get possession of the business. It is intended to pay out the company's indebtedness, which is mostly owing to Maricopa creditors.

ROOSEVELT SCORES "INFAMOUS CHARGES" OF TAFT PARTISANS

ments for the committee and that no effort had been made to treat "unduly" the Roosevelt campaign.

"Our complaint is not that we are called here," interrupted Colonel Roosevelt, "but the men who make the charges are called first."

"Colonel Roosevelt," demanded Charles P. Taft, William H. McElroy and also Chairman McElroy, and Vice Chairman McElroy of the Democratic committee be summoned.

"You can see it is hard on me," said Colonel Roosevelt, "to have to wait a month to answer Mr. Archibald's charges and then to have things so arranged that the attention of the country is riveted on the campaign expenses of the Progressive party, while no attention is directed to the campaign funds of the other candidates."

"I assure you that if the committee does, the other men will be brought here before election," said Chairman Clapp.

At that point a recess until 1:30 o'clock was taken.

KNOW OF FRICK

When the committee reconvened Senator Paynter took up the examination. The colonel related that his first contribution of $100,000 in 1904 by J. P. Morgan, or George J. Gould came from the testimony of George H. Shildon yesterday.

"I knew H. C. Frick had contributed heavily and was ready to contribute more," he said. "I did not know the amount Mr. Knox had told me that Mr. Frick was one of my strongest backers."

"I had heard there was a Standard Oil contribution," said the colonel, "but I did not know that it came from Mr. Archibald. He could not remember who told him."

Senator Paynter called attention to Col. Roosevelt's telegram of October 17, 1904, to Cortelyou, asking that the Standard Oil contribution be returned.

"Without delay,"

"Did you understand there had been delay?" asked Senator Paynter.

"I could not get any reply to my letters," said Colonel Roosevelt. "Mr. Cortelyou was out west, I think. I thought the money would be returned but I wanted to make it clear that I did not mind there was no doubt that the contribution should be returned."

"Have you believed all these years that the Standard Oil contribution was not made?" asked Senator Paynter.

"Cortelyou told me that and Mr. Bliss told Mr. Loeb that; and only the other day Mr. Cortelyou told me that he had been informed by Mr. Bliss that no contribution had been made by the Standard Oil Company."

"I had an explicit understanding with Mr. Bliss and Mr. Cortelyou that no money was to be accepted if any condition was expected or implied as to its receipt; and the money was not to be spent in any improper way, such as the buying of votes."

SOME CONTRIBUTIONS RETURNED

"Mr. Cortelyou told me of two instances of his returning contributions. One of these was from a gentleman, who, after making a large contribution, remarked that he would like to have your name in the case of the tobacco trust and the independent tobacco dealers. Both these contributions were refused. There was no rule limiting the amount of a contribution," said the colonel.

Senator Paynter asked what Colonel Roosevelt meant by saying no money was to be accepted with a condition "implied."

"Such a condition as Mr. Archibald indicated."

He explained that he considered Mr. Archibald's statements indicated "an implication" of some understanding. "That $100,000 from Mr. Morgan probably meant less to him than the $100 I received from the lady who was bookkeeper in Cleveland or the $1 from the widow of a veteran in a soldiers' home," explained the colonel.

Senator Paynter asked him the meaning of E. H. letter of June 1904, in which Harriman said he was trying to see "Dodge, Huggitt and Tricks."

The colonel said Marvin Huggitt had agreed with his views on rate legislation and that when any one differed he went to him to get his opinion. He could explain "my position from the viewpoint of a practical railroad man."

The witness said he and Harriman were very good friends. Senator Paynter wanted to know about the invitation to Harriman to dine at the White House.

"Oh, I wrote him several times inviting him to call," said the colonel.

Colonel Roosevelt said "he did not know," and "could not remember" the circumstances of many of the Harriman letters put in the record by C. C. Tappan.

Senator Paynter tried to get Roosevelt to say that Mr. Harriman's visit in response to a telegram in October 1904, was a result of the President's earnest solicitation, but the colonel insisted Harriman's visit was prompted solely by the New York state situation. Senator Paynter was insistent and finally Colonel Roosevelt exclaimed with a trace of impatience:

"Why, Senator Paynter, he wasn't under any obligation to come; he could come or not, just as he wanted to."

"He had an invitation to come under those circumstances," asked Senator Paynter.

"He or anyone else could come or not come under any circumstances," retorted the colonel.

HARRIMAN'S INTEREST

Colonel Roosevelt discussed the Harriman gubernatorial campaign in New York.

"Mr. Higgins was supposed to be," he said, "indirectly an intimate of Mr. Odell. Mr. Odell was very close to Mr. Harriman. A bitter campaign was waged against Mr. Higgins and Mr. Harriman became favorably interested as a matter of personal pride."

Colonel Roosevelt admitted that aid given the Republican state ticket in 1904 would have helped him.

"That was not the idea," he said. "They all knew I was safe, any they were trying to develop strength for Higgins."

"If you'll look at the betting at that time on me and on Higgins you'll see how matters stood."

Senator Paynter then began Colonel Roosevelt's examination.

"Did you at any time furnish a list had never authorized any one to collect campaign managers?"

"Not as far as my memory goes, I would have remembered it," said the colonel.

Senator Paynter asked Mr. Roosevelt a letter to any banker asking him to collect funds. He said he had never authorized any one to collect funds, except by the general authorization given Mr. Bliss.

Senator Paynter asked Mr. Roosevelt whether he had corresponded with "anyone in Chicago" relative to the collection of funds in 1904.

"Not that I know of."

Of his letters directing return of the Standard Oil contributions, the colonel said the only accusation specifically made about the receipts of money concerned the Standard Oil Company and that was the only one I considered it necessary to answer.

CORTELYOU AS COLLECTOR

Senator Paynter pointed out that Mr. Cortelyou, as secretary of commerce and labor, had general supervision of corporations prior to his becoming chairman of the national committee, and asked if Judge Parker's charges were not general allegations as to the undependability of placing the managing head of a bureau of corporations in a position to collect funds from corporations.

"Yes, the charge was largely by innuendo," replied the colonel, "and I dislike a charge of that kind more than I do a direct charge. I like a man to be guile."

Senator Paynter asked if it would not be natural for corporations which contributed in 1904 to expect favors.

"It is impossible for me to say that any man who gives a dollar does not expect a return for that dollar," said Colonel Roosevelt, "but when I tell him he will get no return, I can prevent his expecting it."

"As a practical man, colonel," said Senator Paynter, "don't you believe that at least some of the big contributors expected returns?"

The colonel grasped the arm of his chair and half rose.

"Speaking as a practical man of high ideals who has tried to put these ideals into practice, I believe that when I tell a man he will receive no return, if he then insists upon giving and expecting a return, he is either a crook or a fool."

A wave of applause swept the committee room and Chairman Clapp banged his gavel.

Senator Paynter asked about the contribution of the steel corporation, and Colonel Roosevelt said that he knew only of the contribution of H. C. Frick. He did not know he was one of the contributors by J. P. Morgan, unless that $100,000 represented also the contribution of Morgan's associates.

"If the contributors included Mr. Frick, I probably knew in a general way that it had been made, because I knew Cortelyou had contributed," said the colonel.

He said that if that meant a loss to my campaign, he would contribute more, although he had already given to the fund.

OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS

Colonel Roosevelt said he knew nothing about contributions from life insurance companies.

"Did you know how much was contributed by the beef interests?"

"I knew nothing about it. This is the first suggestion I ever heard about their contribution. I had already moved against the beef trust, and I don't believe they contributed. I supposed they were against us," said the colonel.

"You say you moved against the Standard Oil Company before the 1904 campaign. Why did you suppose the company changed its attitude and contributed?" asked Senator Paynter.

"I have no means of knowing," said the colonel.

Colonel Roosevelt said he knew nothing of contributions by railroads; that Cortelyou had informed him no funds had been accepted from the tobacco interests.

Senator Paynter asked if the so-called "coal trust" had contributed.

"My dear sir," said Colonel Roosevelt, "after the revelations that have been made about the coal trust, I am surprised at anyone contributing already."

He said no report had been made to him as to the receipts of the contributors.

"I think Mr. Bliss would have presented any inquiry from me on to the contributors," said Colonel Roosevelt.

"You made no inquiry of him or Mr. Cortelyou?"

"No, none," answered the colonel. NOT PERSONALLY INFORMED

"Were you ever advised as to the proportion of the campaign funds of 1904 contributed by corporations?"

"No, never, I never heard it," answered the colonel.

"I never made any inquiries. I did not even know the contributors in this campaign until Mr. Hoover published them before this committee," said the colonel.

"Colonel, it has appeared more in the testimony that the Standard Oil Company was not returned," said Senator Paynter.

"Well, does it appear as a fact?" interrupted Colonel Roosevelt.

"Yes, there is evidence to that fact," said Paynter.

"I want you to note," Colonel Roosevelt returned, "that I have never said either that I did or did not believe the Standard Oil Company had made a contribution. I had heard that Rogers had made some. I heard it a year or two after the campaign. But I understand Bliss did not make him an Standard Oil representative, because he had other large interests. I know nothing about these Archibald contributions."

"What evidence did you have that the Standard Oil contribution was made?" asked Paynter.

"Bliss informed Mr. Loeb it had not been made," answered Colonel Roosevelt. "Mr. Cortelyou informed me that Mr. Bliss had told him it had not been made."

"Do you know who contributed to the $250,000 fund raised by Mr. Harriman?"

"I don't know. I see Mr. Morgan said yesterday he contributed to it. Remember I don't that such a sum was ever raised."

"We have any reason why Mr. Cortelyou should not have had full knowledge of the $250,000 Standard Oil contribution was returned?" asked Senator Paynter.

"Not that I know of."

Colonel Roosevelt said that in reply to his letters demanding the return of the Standard Oil contribution, Mr. Cortelyou came to Washington and assured him no such contribution had been received.

Colonel Roosevelt said he had had no knowledge of a conference of big financial interests in New York to discuss ways and means to support the Republican candidate, "he knew nothing of the appointment of a secret 'advisory committee' in 1904, or whether Harriman had been asked by Cortelyou to serve on such a committee."

WHO IS FRESH?

Senator Paynter asked if the colonel knew Herman Freshch of New York.

"Freshch of New York?" repeated the colonel. "I know so many 'fresh' men that I feel as though I must ask if I know that man."

So he turned to Loeb, who said Freshch was in the sulphur business.

"You see," interrupted the colonel, "it may be some one who has said to me, 'I am the man who waved the flag when you came into the station,' or something of that kind."

"This one seemed to be extremely anxious to wave your flag, for he contributed $10,000 to your pre-convention campaign."

"Then I shall make his acquaintance at once," said Colonel Roosevelt with energy.

Senator Paynter said it had been suggested that Freshch was at one time connected with the Standard Oil Company.

Colonel Roosevelt leaned back in his chair, laughed and exclaimed:

"My dear sir, if anyone connected with the Standard Oil Company is contributing to me now, he is doing so at his own peril. I don't feel obliged to warn him. Do you think from Mr. Archibald's testimony he was in favor of me?"

This brought forth a wave of laughter.

Colonel Roosevelt said he could give the committee no information of the expenditures of his managers in this year's primary campaign.

"It has been suggested that a large sum of money was underwritten to spend in the campaign. What do you know about that?"

The colonel said there was "absolutely no such arrangement."

"But on one occasion the expense of a special train for a trip was underwritten by Mr. Perkins and Mr. Munsey, I think. The sum was later paid back," he added.

Colonel Roosevelt declared that at one period in the campaign, when Treasurer Hooker brought him a clipping of a newspaper article to the effect that $300,000 had been raised for the Roosevelt fund, there was $1.67 in the Roosevelt treasury.

The colonel said that he had no further information and was excused.

He then went to the national museum to see his African trophies.

William Loeb, Jr., followed him on the stand.

LOEB'S CONFIRMATION.

Loeb substantiated Colonel Roosevelt's testimony that Harriman called on the White House in October, 1904, and asked for an endorsement in connection with the state ticket. The state ticket in New York was troubling them. He then related what was said at this interview.

"Mr. Harriman started by saying New York was all right as far as the President was concerned," testified Loeb, "but that a fight had occurred against the state ticket and that it was said to be an 'O-R-I-G-I-N-A-L' ticket."

Harriman, he added, asked that the national committee help Odell.

"The President said," continued Loeb, "that Mr. Harriman, I do not know the condition of funds of the national committee but I should be so sorry to have Mr. Higgins beaten and I should see Mr. Cortelyou. Then the President directed me to telephone this to Mr. Cortelyou, which I did. Cortelyou said he would take the matter up with Mr. Bliss and would be glad to see Mr. Harriman."

Taking up the Standard Oil contribution, Loeb said that after two letters had failed to elicit a reply from Cortelyou as to refusing the contribution, he suggested telephoning to Cortelyou. This failed to obtain a reply, he said, and he telephoned to New York, getting Bliss.

"I told Mr. Bliss about the letters and the telegrams and that the President wanted to know if there was any Standard Oil contribution. Mr. Bliss showed a little irritation, I thought, in his manner and said: 'You may tell the President that the spirit and the heart of Mr. Cortelyou's announcement as to corporation contributions will be agreed out and that no contribution has been or will be received from the Standard Oil Company.'"

After talking with Mr. Bliss, I was told that Mr. Bliss had come in and I talked with him. He said he had been busy and Miss Bliss had been out and that was the occasion of receiving no reply. He said that Mr. Bliss had told him no such contribution had been or should be received. And that, as far as his knowledge went, no such contribution had been or would be received."

TO INCREASE MEDICAL MILITIA IN CALIFORNIA

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 4.—Orders have been issued for the formation and mustering in of a field hospital company and an ambulance company as additions to the existing militia organizations in this state. These additions will be organized in Los Angeles.

These organizations fill up a gap in the California state militia which was made apparent to the officers of the guard and to the regular army officers during the recent maneuvers between the militia and the United States army in the attack on San Francisco. It was then demonstrated that had the campaign been put instead of a series of sham battles, several hundred men would have been killed or wounded, and there would have been no way to take care of them.

It has been announced that a convention of all the national guard medical officers of California together with the medical officers of the United States army stationed in this state will be held soon in San Francisco. Captain Thomas, head of the medical staff in the California militia, is expected to be present at the convention.

MALARIA—BLOOD POVERTY

Malaria is a species of blood poverty known as Anemia. In the first stages of Malaria the complexion becomes pale and sallow, the appetite is affected, the system grows flaccid, and there is a general feeling of weakness. As the circulation becomes more thoroughly saturated with the malarial infection, the digestion is deranged, chills and fever come and go, skin diseases, boils, sores and ulcers break out. Malaria can only be cured by removing the germs from the blood. S. S. S. destroys every particle of malarial infection and builds up the blood to a strong, nourishing condition. Then the system receives its proper amount of nutriment, sallow complexions grow ruddy and healthy, the liver and digestion are regulated and every symptom of Malaria passes away. S. S. S. cures in every case because it purifies the blood. S. S. S. is a safe and pleasant remedy as well as an efficient one. Book on the blood and any medical advice free to all who write.

NEW LANDS DISPUTE HAS BEEN SETTLED FIFTEEN ARE DROWNED WHEN SUBMARINE SANK

Claims of California Against Federal Government Are Reduced

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—A settlement of the long standing dispute between the Interior Department and the state of California regarding the indemnity lands selections of that state has been reached, and the first list of lands under it was approved today.

The controversy goes back to 1904, when the government suspended all indemnity grants. Up to that time the state selections amounted to 400,000 acres, and the department refused to allow them upon the ground that the claim was far in excess of the state's right under the law. The understanding arrived at reduces the selections to 350,000 acres, but it is agreed that if the filings exceed this, the state shall be allowed to take the lands and pay for them at regulation government rates.

The entries allowed today cover about 6,000 acres and all are in the Los Angeles district.

DEMANDS NAMES OF VICE HOUSES

Chicago Judge Issues Subpoenas for Report of Commission

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—The crusade against vice in Chicago conducted by States Attorney Wayman took a startling turn today when at the request of the states attorney, Judge Rogers of the municipal court issued subpoenas duces tecum for the production of the key to the report of the vice commission which was made about two years ago. The key was retained in the archives of the commission.

When the report of the commission was published it contained much startling information regarding conditions in the vice districts of the city. Many names and recent keepers, furnished most of this information, their identities being concealed through the medium of numerals in place of names.

In order to have the benefit of this information, the subpoena were issued against the summer of 1910, Peter and Paul Cavanaugh, and Edwin W. Sims, former C. S. district attorney. Mr. Sims appeared in court and made a vigorous effort to prevent the production of the key. He explained that when the commission disbanded in 1910, the key was virtually in a directory of all the vice houses, disorderly hotels and their inmates. In the city, was placed in the hands of a committee of five, of which he is a member.

Sims said this information was not obtained for the purpose of prosecution, but that the commission made a private investigation to ascertain conditions in the city. It finally was agreed that Sims should ask other members of his committee if they are willing that the key should be given to the prosecutors' office.

METHODISTS CRITICIZE GOVERNMENT POLICY

Teachers in Indian Schools Should Not Be Permitted to Wear Religious Garb

LONG BEACH, Oct. 4.—President Taft and Secretary of the Interior Fisher were criticized for allowing teachers in government Indian schools to wear religious garb, in a resolution adopted today by the lay association of the Southern California Methodist Conference. Dr. Edward, editor of the Pacific Coast Christian Advocate, declared that President Taft made one of the greatest mistakes of his administration when he rejected the recommendations of the Indian commissioner, backed by all Methodists, to eliminate that practice.

Frank S. Wallace of Pasadena was elected president of the lay association; Mrs. G. E. Foster of Los Angeles, secretary, and Miss Lydia Alexander of San Diego, treasurer.

Lieutenant-Governor A. J. Wallace explained his position on church amusements at the general conference, asserting that he favored the old Wesleyan doctrine of allowing conscience to judge of right and wrong and eliminating from church discipline specific prohibition of dancing, card playing and theater-going.

THE MONOPLANE HUNT
To the ordinary individual there is little that is humorous in aviation, writes Grahame-White in the October Strand Magazine; it would seem, rather, to be a grim and grisly business, with death always at the pilot's elbow. But the dangers of airshipmanship are ridiculously exaggerated, and there is, as a matter of fact, much that is amusing in what is right called everyday aviation, and particularly in regard to the operation of a flying school.

And now as to the most amusing incident I can think of. Well, here it is.

A pupil, after landing at my Hendon aerodrome one evening at the end of a flight on a monoplane, jumped out of the machine before it had stopped running along the ground. Stumbling, he not only let go of the machine, but accidentally touched the engine-switch and accelerated the motor to a high rate of speed.

The result was the monoplane darted away like a big, angry bird, and, as though rejoicing in its newfound freedom, it ran this way and that about the aerodrome, its motor humming defiance.

With confident mien, some of the pupils hurried out to catch the runaway; but they had not reckoned upon the ridiculously eccentric action of the machine.

Soon we who were watching were convulsed with mirth. Whirling hither and thither under the impulse of its propeller, but without the power actually to rise, the monoplane seemed instinct with the desire to circle pursuit.

Buzzing away across the aerodrome, it led the mechanics a tantalizing chase. Then suddenly wheeling round, it plunged at them, and scattered them with the fear of its spinning propeller.

Again they chased it; again the machine, as though a thief who had been caught, turned and made a vicious dart at them. This time one man managed to grip its tail, but he was shaken off and fell flat on his back.

Perceiving freely, and with many terse remarks to express their annoyance, the mechanics again took to their heels. Meanwhile, the machine, unheeding of our shouts, continued its mad career.

Up and down, to and fro, the monoplane dodged and slipped and fell, their furious, unavailing shouts and cries mingling with the spiteful splutter of the monoplane's engine.

At length, having laughed at the ludicrous spectacle until we could laugh no more, some of us who were watching by the sheds made a move to join in the game.

But the machine seemed possessed by a regulated devil from the very first. Several times it came back and landed, but it was always with the intention of taking a second start, and it was always with the intention of taking a second start.

At length, when we were all worn from running or laughing, I managed to get hold of a wing. The monoplane whirled round and round furiously, but it was able to hold on. And then a miracle ran in and snatched off the motor. At once the machine stopped its absurd gyrations. But while it lasted the monoplane hunt was the funniest sight you could imagine.

TWO WOMEN STABBED BY CRAZY NEGRO

Chicago Judge Issues Subpoenas for Report of Commission

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—Attacked by a young negro who had been employed as a butler in a neighboring residence, two young women were stabbed today while defending the life of Mrs. Charles H. Carter, a wealthy resident of Gramercy place.

The attack was made in Mrs. Carter's room, while the two young women—Miss M. W. Hayden and Miss Helen Bell—were talking to Mrs. Carter. The negro, who is believed to be insane, sprang at Mrs. Carter, Miss Hayden and Bell, the latter Mrs. Carter's maid, rushed to her defense, and were each stabbed several times in the arm and side.

The women were saved from further injury by a painter working nearby who heard their cries for help and rushed to the rescue. The crazed man was then locked up in a closet until the police arrived.

NICARAGUAN REBELS DRIVEN FROM MASAYA

Foreign Refugees There Appeal to the American Minister for Relief

PANAMA, Oct. 4.—A dispatch received here from Cuadra, Nicaragua, minister of finance, states that today the government forces captured the town of Masaya.

The town of Masaya, capital of the Nicaraguan province of Masaya, is on the railroad southeast of Managua and has been held by the rebels for some time.

Reports sent to Washington by Weltzel, the American minister to Nicaragua, said refugees from Masaya of German, British, Dutch and Italian nationalities had appealed to him for immediate relief.

It was at Masaya on the night of September 19th, that rebels holding the town fired upon a train bearing American blue-jackets and marines who were there to open railroad communication with Granada. Three marines were slightly wounded.

The men accused were arrested soon after a cargo of Chinese was smuggled ashore June 1 from the launch Earl K. the property of Wong Ott, which later was seized by government officials. According to testimony the launch was used by Adolphson and Sundgren and the former received $250 for each Chinese brought in.

THE MAVABLE SPOT.

I came across something really unique in the way of rules in a hotel in New York City, writes Melbourne Tuman, the famous billiard player, in the October Strand, where I was once hooked to play when touring in India. In the billiard room, immediately opposite the table, where everyone could read it, hung a card bearing the following announcement:

For first cut 100 rupees
Second cut 50 rupees
Third cut 20 rupees
Any subsequent cut... 10 rupees

Judging from the appearance of the cloth, I should think that table must have been a veritable gold mine to its proprietor, if it collected all the fines. Evidently his motto was, "Cut and come again."

On another occasion while staying at Wellington, New Zealand, I was invited to play at the Tararua Club. Pa-hatua. The table itself, I found, was not at all bad, but when I looked at it clearly I noticed that the billiard spot was at least three inches too far to one side.

I had become fairly hardened to trying conditions by this time, but to attempt to play with the red ball inches out of its recognized position was more than I could do.

"What's the matter with that spot?" I asked. "It isn't right, is it?"

The man addressed squinted at the spot.

"Seems sorter crooked," he agreed, slowly; "but the fact of the matter is that we change the position of the ball every spot once a week. Otherwise it'd work a hole in the cloth."

SERVANT DISAPPEARS; $10,000 IN GEMS GONE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—Jewelry valued at nearly $10,000 and a new woman servant, vanished simultaneously yesterday from the residence of Mrs. R. H. Wallace, a wealthy widow of this city. From her description the police believe the missing servant is a woman who has repeatedly robbed employers under similar circumstances and for whom they were looking on other charges at the time. She gave the name of Marie Schmidt at the employment agency from which she was sent to Mrs. Wallace's residence a few hours before the robbery.

FEWER SEA TRAGEDIES

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The tale of the sea is gradually falling. In 1894, 1874 disasters and 1,197 passengers were lost, as compared with 397 disasters and 21 passengers in 1911. The number of deaths in 1911 was 1,197, and in 1912 it had fallen to one in 248. Nearly 2,000 seamen are returned as serving in British merchant ships last year, as against less than 200,000 fifteen years ago.

It is noticeable that of last year's total of over 2,000 seamen engaged on sailing vessels, as against 15,000 on steamships, in 1894, 58,537 seamen worked under sail, against 15,000 under steam.

HAS HARD LUCK ON A WHALING VOYAGE

Moving Picture Man Sees Wondrous Sights But Has No Pictures

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—The whaler Letitia, just returned from the Arctic carried a man on his last trip. The crew, however, made no attempt to use him for whale but, for the had luck he attracted and ultimately rested upon his own shoulders.

F. C. Hemstead, moving picture producer, secured backing a year ago for a trip with moving picture camera on a whaling voyage. A London firm forwarded his equipment on the ill-fated Letitia. The equipment was arranged for another outfit to be forwarded to Dutch Harbor, Alaska, at which port the Letitia, upon which he had engaged passage, was to sail. The second outfit missed connections. Leaving Dutch Harbor, the Letitia ran into whales in schools, leaping, hurrying and maintaining speed. With every boat busy on a school of whales the captain fell out of the rigging and was drowned. To show his backers what they had missed, Hemstead took several rolls of snapshots, only to discover that a mechanical defect in his camera left every picture out of focus. "A million dollars worth of bulky stuff went to waste," he declared today with tears in his voice.

GERMAN BIRDMAN BURKMEIER KILLED

HANOVER, Germany, Oct. 4.—An old German almanac, August Burkmeier, was killed today. He was flying around the cathedral here in his monoplane when in making a curve one of the wings tipped too far and the machine crashed to the ground from a height of fifty feet.

HEARST LONDON PAPER IS NOT YET NAMED

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The new London daily paper, which has been foreshadowed for so long, is to be issued early in the new year. It is the property of that energetic American newspaper owner, W. R. Hearst, and is to be run—presumably—on strictly American lines. The title is as yet undecided. The price will be on a half-penny, and there will be many illustrations.

SCANDALS IN LONDON

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The number of divorce cases entered in the lists for October courts is about as usual, and include several actions, which, if they come to trial, will provide very entertaining reading. Two well known elegantly dressed and well known women, the co-respondents in both actions being a German tutor. A claim for substantial damages is made by a popular actor against a gentleman of means who is not unknown in political circles. There are also one or two cases in which the names of persons moving in high society are mentioned.

SECOND DEATH HERE FROM INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Son of Thomas Thorn Dies
After Short Illness; Third
Death in County

Youth Thought to Have Contracted Dreaded Disease in Sanger

Following an illness of but a few days, Lewis Dugan Thorn, 3-year-old son of Thomas O. Thorn, city superintendent of streets, died last night at 6 o'clock from what three Fresno physicians have diagnosed as infantile paralysis. Today the death certificate will be signed by Dr. Harry Graycroft, the first physician called into attendance, and infantile paralysis will be given as the cause of death.

The little boy was taken sick Tuesday afternoon and Dr. Graycroft was called Wednesday morning. A diagnosis was made by Dr. Graycroft, but at that time he was not certain that the case was infantile paralysis, although the boy showed symptoms of having the dreaded disease. Later Dr. J. L. Maupin was called into consultation and it was then announced that the lad had paralysis.

Dr. George Aiken, county health physician, was notified and the house was placed under quarantine. Dr. Aiken said that the case was infantile paralysis. The origin of the disease in this particular case is not known definitely, but it is thought that the Thorn boy caught the disease in Sanger where there has been one death and one case at the present time under quarantine. The son of the street superintendent was in Sanger about ten days ago and stayed all night with friends. It is thought that he might have been taken to a picture show and there caught the germ.

Dr. W. T. Burks, county health physician, said last night that the child died from infantile paralysis, his last week lived some distance above Sanger on the river bottom. He announced that one case was under quarantine in Sanger now, but that the child was on the road to recovery.

A close watch is being kept to prevent the disease from spreading. Dr. Burks claims that he has the situation in hand in the county and Dr. Aiken says there is no danger in the city.

This is the second death from infantile paralysis that has occurred in the city, a negro girl having died some time ago.

Women Have Each Other Arrested in Different Courts

Mrs. Mary Dominguez, defendant in City Justice Graham's court on a charge of disturbing the peace, appeared before Justice of the Peace Smith yesterday and swore to a warrant charging Mrs. L. Poole with disturbing the peace. Mrs. Poole had Mrs. Dominguez arrested in the other court. Mrs. Poole, the complainant in one action and now the defendant in the other, was arrested and taken before Justice Smith where she pleaded not guilty. Mrs. Dominguez did the same thing in Justice Graham's court. No date for trial has been set. The women are having trouble over house rent.

REGISTER TODAY BEFORE 6 P. M.; IT'S LAST CHANCE

The registration bureau at the county courthouse will not be open tonight. The report that it would be is without foundation. Registration and also transfer of voters by reason of change of residence will end for the November election with the closing of the office at 6 o'clock, and whoever is not on the books by that hour will be shut out of its vote. Registration by outside deputies in the field will also close at the hour named this evening.

The number of transfers has been phenomenally large during this registration year. County Clerk Barnum accounts for it because of the early registrations for the local option election, last May. Heretofore registrations have been discouraged before the month of July to obviate the necessity of double work in registrations followed by the subsequent changes and transfers.

For the May elections there was a registration of some 25,000 voters, and it was to be expected that in such a large number there should have been as many changes of residence as have taken place in the five months that followed, more especially as a considerable percentage of the registered represented new comers who had not yet established themselves in permanent abodes.

Edward C. Cagwin offered for probate yesterday the seven year old will of A. S. Cagwin, who died on the 2nd of last July. Frank M. Cagwin of Los Angeles named as executor renouncing his right in favor of the petitioner. The estate consists of varied small land and oil mining stock interests valued at $1000. Bequests of $10 are made to George H. Adams, Sadie M. Burness and Josephine Fay, stepchildren, the last named of Colima. All else is given to the sons, the petitioner of Richmond, a resident of Joliet, Ill., when the will was drawn, and F. M. Cagwin of Los Angeles formerly of San Diego.

FIRE DEPARTMENT IS CALLED OUT TWICE

The fire department was called out twice yesterday afternoon. The first call was from the home of Mr. Hinton at 262 Poplar avenue, where a fire had started in a trunk on the rear porch. Mrs. McDonald, a neighbor, discovered the fire and extinguished it was a garden hose before the apparatus arrived. The second alarm was for a fire at 835 Glenn avenue. No damage was done.

NEEDHAM OPENS HIS 1912 CAMPAIGN IN RIVERDALE

Says He Is Candidate of All
Elements of Republican Party Here

Tells What Democrats Plan to Do to Tariff on State Products

Congressman Needham opened his campaign last night in Riverdale before a large and appreciative audience. He spoke for over an hour and fully and frankly stated the lines upon which he would conduct his campaign. He said that he would refuse to accept his candidacy to the basis of an agreement or a deal, but with any particular candidate for the Presidency. He said that he was the nominee of all elements of the Republican party, selected at the primary to oppose the Democratic nominee, that he was supported by the primary by all elements of the Republican party and he regarded himself as the representative of all Republicans and as their representative in this district in this campaign to oppose Church. He stated that while there are three candidates for the Presidency, in the advocacy of which men may sincerely differ, there are only two candidates for Congress in most Congressional districts and the issue is squarely drawn between the Democratic and the Republican nominees and that he proposed to base his campaign upon this issue; that he believed it his duty, under all the circumstances, to conduct his campaign along this line. He argued that while there may be temporarily three leading parties, the history of the country shows that there cannot be more than two great political parties for any length of time, and he predicted that within a comparatively short time we would return to two great political parties, that "Those who are now right will be vindicated and those who are wrong will want to get right."

He argued forcibly for the integrity of the primary election law, saying that the integrity of that law was involved in this congressional campaign. He said that he had always favored the direct primary law just as he had always voted in the House of Representatives for direct election of United States Senators by the people, and told the audience that if the direct primary is to prevail there must be an acquiescence in the result of the primary where there has been a fair and open contest as was the case in the Congressional contest in this district.

Riverdale being greatly interested in the dairy industry Needham discussed the situation in Congress in regard to the proposal to repeal the oleomargarine law, and stated that he voted for the present law in 1902 and that he proposed to do everything he could to maintain the law so as to give every possible legitimate protection and encouragement to the dairy industry. He stated that the proposal to repeal the law would come up for discussion in December next, during the present Congress. He argued that while the question was a non-political one, yet, in a sense it was political because the Democratic party does not believe that the taxing power of the Government can be used for any purpose except revenue, while the Republican party has always held to the policy that it is within the power of Congress to levy a tax so as to equalize competition or to prevent fraud and to encourage an industry.

He closed his speech with a discussion of the tariff question and ridiculed the position of Church upon this question. He said that the position of Church to the effect that the products of California are luxuries and are therefore entitled to a tariff is absolutely refuted by the attitude of Democratic congressmen in placing lemon on the free list and in reducing the duty on olive oil and the further threat of Underwood, Democratic Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, to further reduce the duties on all other California products. He said that a vote for Church will be a direct invitation to lower the duty on all California products and that no other construction could be placed on such a vote. "The election of Church," he said, "would mean that both Democrats and Republicans in the House of Representatives would be invited to count as a positive invitation to eliminate the protection now enjoyed by the products of this district."

Mr. Needham speaks this afternoon at Tulare before the dairymen's convention and in the evening at Porterville where it is expected he will discuss very fully the duty on citrus fruits as Porterville is the heart of the citrus fruit industry of Tulare county.
